

This is Today's

SOUTHERN CaseArts

For over 40 years, we've produced innovative refrigerated cases for the grocery and convenience store markets. The last few years have brought a lot of changes which have allowed us to make our cases even better. We've made improvements to our manufacturing process, added an in-house testing lab, and installed the latest manufacturing technology.

SOUTHERN CaseArts

Quality is important. We've installed a state of the art testing lab on-site to ensure each case we build is going to perform at the highest level for years to come. Our cases use premium components, the best insulation materials, and precision fabrication that deliver a finished product superior to others in the market.

In order to deliver the best quality product, our management team has looked at every aspect of our manufacturing process to eliminate waste and streamline the processes required to build our cases. We've prepared for the future by installing state-of-the-art technology, hiring bright young talent, and creating an environment for growth.

Southern CaseArts is located in Bessemer, Alabama which is one of the fastest growing areas for manufacturing in the Southeast. This means better access to the best talent, transportation infrastructure that allows for timely shipments, and countless growth opportunities for the future.

Our management team understands the importance of having the right resources in place for both today and the future. Across the plant, the enhancements we've made in technology, people, and infrastructure are all things that have had a positive impact on the way we build our cases. These changes also ensure we are ready for growth to deliver even more premium products while utilizing our existing 190,000 sq. ft. of manufacturing space.
